Message from Commandant of the Marine Corps:

CMC WASHINGTON DC(UC)

TO: ALL MARINE CORPS LEAGUE MEMBERS [Via National Commandant, Jack Ryan]

23 MARCH 2007

I am writing you this letter to ask for your support, and the support of the Marine Corps League. I know that I do not need to recount how our Marines are serving selflessly in harm's way – but it seems that many of our fellow Americans do not understand the gravity of the current situation. We are fighting a determined enemy bent on terror and domination. Iraq and Afghanistan are only the first battles of this Long War – but they are crucial to our Nation's future. Success by the enemy will dramatically change the world as we know it, leaving a harsh environment for our children and grandchildren to endure.

I need your help, and the help of the Marine Corps League, to inspire the American people –they need to understand that we must succeed in the war, as our long term national credibility is on the line. You are in a unique position to make an impact, and that's why this letter is in your hands. Having worn the Eagle, Globe, and Anchor for more than half a century, your distinctive credibility allows you to speak with authority. You have a strategic position in our society, and I ask that you, as a Marine, take up this call.

A new generation of Marines is distinguishing themselves far from our shores – and they need our help to fight the good fight here at home. I ask for your continued commitment to ensure our nation prevails.

Semper Fi, Marine!

James T. Conway, General, U.S. Marine Corps, Commandant of the Marine Corps

Term of affection, used to denote that filthy, sweaty,
dirt-encrusted, foot-sore,
camouflage-painted,
ripped-trousered, tired,
sleepy, beautiful, little sum beach
who has kept the wolf away
from your door for over two hundred years!
